COLTS FANS DON'T LET FANS DRIVE DRUNK "Good Sport" Encourages Designated Drivers

Indianapolis, IN – With the 2009 Indianapolis Colts season well underway, the Colts, Centerplate, Anheuser-Busch, Zink Distributing and Techniques for Effective Alcohol Management (TEAM) Coalition ask all Colts fans to have a designated driver in order to prevent drunk driving. The message – "Fans Don't Let Fans Drive Drunk" - appear on the beer cups at the Lucas Oil Stadium this season as part of a league-wide effort involving all 32 NFL teams and 31 stadiums. The message is a reminder that creating a positive game day experience is everyone's responsibility, including the fans.

For the seventh consecutive season, Colts fans who pledge to be designated drivers have a chance to follow the Colts to the Super Bowl through the Responsibility Has Its Rewards sweepstakes. Last season 245 Colts fans pledged to be designated drivers and 140,000 fans pledged across the league. This season the goal for the NFL is 200,000 designated drivers.

In addition to the "Fans Don't Let Fans Drive Drunk" message on all the beer cups, the Colts are offering the "Good Sport" designated-driver program at the Lucas Oil Stadium. Each fan that pledges to not drink alcohol and ensure a safe ride home for their friends and family receives a complimentary non alcoholic beverage and a chance to be selected as the Colts Designated Driver for the Game and the Designated Driver for the Season. The randomly-selected Designated Driver for the Game is announced during the second half on the stadium video board. The winner receives a Colts jacket co-branded with the "Good Sport" logo.

After fans pledge to be designated drivers at Colts games, they receive an email directing them to register on-line at www.rhir.org to be randomly-selected as the Colts Designated Driver for the Season. The Designated Drivers for the Season from the two teams competing in the Super Bowl receive trips to the game, which will be played on Sunday February 7, 2010 at Dolphin Stadium, as the grand prize winners of the Responsibility Has Its Rewards sweepstakes.

"We want the game-day experience to continue to be safe and enjoyable for Colts fans while they enjoy the Lucas Oil Stadium and as they travel home after the games," said Colts senior executive vice president Pete Ward. "We're proud of our fans' commitment to responsible behavior and thrilled to reward them with such a great opportunity."

"Tying Responsibility Has Its Rewards to our season-long Good Sport program makes for a winning combination," said Kathy Casso, vice president of Corporate Social Responsibility for Anheuser-Busch. "We're pleased to work with the Colts, TEAM and the other program partners to recognize fans who look out for each other and make a designated-driver part of their game plan. When it comes to preventing drunk driving, we're all part of the team."

"As a part of our commitment to creating safe and enjoyable fan experiences, Centerplate takes responsible alcohol management very seriously," said George Wooten, executive vice president of Operations for Centerplate. "We're proud to be a part of Responsibility Has Its Rewards, joining the TEAM Coalition to empower fans to make smarter, safer choices both inside and outside Lucas Oil Stadium."

“The success of the Responsibility Has Its Rewards campaign and this new initiative to communicate the ‘Fans Don’t Let Fans Drive Drunk’ message on all beer cups in NFL stadiums, including the Lucas Oil Stadium, is a direct result of the commitment from the league, the teams and all the campaign partners,” said Jill Pepper, executive director of TEAM Coalition. “Teamwork is what this campaign is all about. We are demonstrating that when everyone – including the fans – takes responsibility, everyone wins.”

Fortunately, football fans join millions of other Americans in doing the “ride thing.” According to a national survey by TNS Custom Research Inc., nearly two out of three adults – more than 137 million Americans – have been a designated driver or been driven home by one.

The designated-driver program is just one component of the fan behavior initiative offered by the Kansas City Colts at The Lucas Oil Stadium. Other components include:

- Fan Code of Conduct
- Text messaging (text “INDY” + Message to 78247) empowers fans to report disruptive behavior to security
- Alcohol service policies including ID checks for fans who appear to be 35 years of age or younger, no more than two alcoholic beverages per person per transaction and alcohol cut-off at the end of the third quarter at concession stands and the end of halftime for service in the seating area

TEAM Coalition – an alliance of professional and collegiate sports, entertainment facilities, concessionaries, stadium service providers, the beer industry, broadcasters, traffic safety experts and others working together to promote responsible drinking and positive fan behavior at sports and entertainment facilities.
